

RIVER PLACE NAMED TOWNHOME COMMUNITY OF THE YEAR

At its recent Best in Pennsylvania Living Gala awards ceremony, the regional home builders associations awarded River Place the Townhouse Community of the Year. In singling out River Place, the judges commended the project's unique architectural design, sales success and land plan that integrated with the river and construction quality.

"We are so pleased and proud to have this recognition," says Sarah Peck, whose company developed the project. "I would like to thank the entire team who made this challenging project possible: AJM Construction and their subcontractors, LPT Realty-Gary Mercer Team, Trident Land Services Title, architects Gregory Wissman and Grimaldi Architecture, landscape architect Michael Wagoner and the Progressive New Homes team. Of course, the project would not have been possible without all the home buyers who believed in this unique community."

Progressive New Homes president Sarah Peck with architect Greg Wissman and project manager Chris Rogers.

